MADERO WILL NOT RESIGN OFFICE

Senate Deputation Besought Him to Give Up Reins of Government

DECLARES HE WILL DIE RATHER THAN RESIGN

Diaz Refuses Armistice Until Madero Quits—Conflict is Destroying Capital

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—President Madero late this afternoon, following a conference with the national senate committee, refused to accede to the senate's request that he resign.

The committee of senators left the chamber of deputies with the avowed intention of asking Madero to resign. The senate membership is greatly depleted because so many of the senators have allied themselves with the Diaz interests.

The senators with de la Barra called on President Madero after de la Barra had conferred with Col. Diaz regarding plans for an armistice. Madero proposed to name a commission from each party to consider a solution. Diaz flatly refused to consider an armistice or peace negotiations until he was officially notified of Madero's resignation with his vice president and his entire cabinet. A deputation took his reply to Madero at a late hour this afternoon.

Would Die But Not Resign

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—"I'll die rather than resign!" This was the defiant reply of President Madero to the leaders and advisers of the Mexican Senate, who spent the greater part of the night trying to induce him to quit his office and permit the election of another president. New pressure was brought to bear on Madero today, senators and cabinet members visiting him in committees, renewing their pleas. Madero's supporters believe if they can secure his resignation and de la Barra should succeed him, peace will follow. The latter is popular with all classes. He has a close knowledge of the American feeling towards Mexico, and it is believed he could reconcile the various elements and suppress anti-American sentiment. He acted as provisional president of Mexico for several weeks following Porfirio Diaz's resignation, at the successful culmination of the Madero revolution.

$20,000,000 LOSS IN CITY FROM BURSTING SHELLS
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—The damage to property here from shells is placed at $20,000,000. All industries are paralyzed. The enforced idleness of workmen will swell the loss incident to the rebellion. The Red Cross and White Cross have abandoned the work of rescuing the wounded in the streets because their flags are used upon, and their ambulances seized to transport ammunition.

Many of the most beautiful buildings in the capital have been destroyed or irreparably injured. The churches for the most part have escaped, but the great clubs and cafes and many public buildings have been ruined.

The brief review upon which the above financial loss estimate is based was made during the lull in the firing for breakfast today. Since then additional damage has been done, causing many thousands more loss. Indications are that fighting will be resumed tomorrow and continue until one side dislodges the other, or Madero resigns. Food prices are mounting, although no unusual suffering is reported.

FEDERALS AND REBELS RENEW THEIR ATTACKS ON OBJECTIVE POINTS
After the customary hour's intermission for breakfast, fighting was resumed. The Maderistas repeatedly charged the arsenal but were driven back. The rebels also renewed their attack on the national palace. It is reported that scores fell in the federal charges on the arsenal.

FIGHTING THROUGH NIGHT—MADERO SURPRISE A FIASCO
Fighting in the streets between the Madero and Diaz forces raged from 10 o'clock last night until 4 o'clock this morning. Madero had planned a night attack to surprise Diaz, but the attempt was a failure. Reports that Madero had resigned or would resign were freely circulated last night and continue today. Many believe that Madero deliberately cir-

State Department In Suspense as to Mexican Affairs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The absence of authentic news from Mexico City is causing the belief that the State Department may be withholding its information. The last report received here through news agencies said the belligerents' position was the same as yesterday, the Diazistas holding the arsenal despite attempts to dislodge them, while the Maderistas held the palace. Reinforcements for Diaz are reported as arriving hourly. As far as can be gathered here the relative strength is the same as when the fighting began.

Long Silence Worried Officials
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Up to 10 o'clock today the state department had been cut off from communication with Mexico City for eighteen hours. Desperate attempts were made to secure the wires.

The absence of official information caused the issuance of orders today for commanders of American ships in Mexican waters to be prepared to land marines, if the ambassador or others in authority need their services. Secretary of State Knox explained that such landing would not be regarded as intervention. Two thousand marines are available on the four ships now on the Mexican coast.

State Department officials are unable to understand why they have received no official messages, while press dispatches are coming through, although greatly delayed. Following the issuance of the orders to commanders of battleships, it was announced that there had been no success in attempts to renew communication with officials at Mexico City. This is causing grave apprehension in certain quarters. Secretary Knox denied that any significance attaches to the presence of de la Barra at the British embassy in London, although U. S. Ambassador Wilson is the recognized dean of the diplomatic corps in Mexico City. He believes wire communication will be restored today.

ARMY EXPERTS ASTOUNDED AT AMMUNITION RESOURCES
The fighting in the Mexican capital is regarded in military circles here as unparalleled in modern history and experts are astounded at the ammunition resources of the contending forces. One army officer declared today that the United States army could not fight six days, as the combatants in Mexico have done, with all of the ammunition now on hand. Although theoretically equipped with 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition for the three-inch field guns, there are less than 150,000 rounds in United States arsenals, while of the 60,000 rounds supposed to be available for the siege guns only 2500 are in sight. Moreover, about 1000 rounds a day represent the entire maximum product of United States arsenals.

CHIHUAHUA REBELS WAIT FOR MADERO'S RESIGNATION

EL PASO, Feb. 15.—The rebel junta here has notified every Mexican insurgent commander in the state of Chihuahua of the reports of the possible resignation of Madero and has asked them to remain inactive pending further developments. Mexican leaders here say the Diaz revolution will end quickly if Madero quits and the Cientifico party which he represents is not returned to power.

YAGUI INDIANS WILL FIGHT AGAINST ANY DIAZ

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Feb. 15.—Indian graders bring reports that the Yaqui Indians are enraged that another member of the Diaz family is making an attempt to meddle in Mexican affairs. They predict that if Diaz is triumphant the Indians will join the Maderistas. They hate Diaz's name because many of their tribe was enslaved by Porfirio Diaz.

VEGETABLES ARE AERIAL TOUR OF SOUTHLAND BY MARTIN

Variety of Highest Quality Grown Right Within the City Limits

BIG CANNERY MAY BE LOCATED HERE

Ohio Man Interested in the Exceptional Possibilities Offered Here

"I have a brother-in-law back in Ohio who seems to have gotten the notion that pretty much everything out here has been nipped by frost—well, I wish I had him out here to show him these vegetables," remarked W. H. Matthews, of 1548 West First street, as he came into the Register office last evening and laid down a large box of as fine vegetables as were ever taken out of a garden.

In the box were bunches of muscous red beets; bright green lettuce, young onions, carrots that would captivate the most dyspeptic appetite; white crystal radishes and French breakfast radishes, and spinach that couldn't be beaten anywhere. Not a vegetable in the bunch that was up to the highest standard for quality and, of course, not a sign of anything like frost, for as is well known hereabouts, Santa Ana as well as other sections of Orange county, is in the real frostless belt.

Mr. Matthews is the proprietor of the American Gardening Company, and is a thorough expert vegetable grower. He doesn't take kindly to the unfounded reports that convey the notion that there is frost enough at any time in the winter to seriously damage vegetables or fruit in this section. His brother-in-law is G. L. West, who is the proprietor of a vegetable cannery at Toledo, Ohio. Mr. West has been considering the advisability of establishing a similar cannery in Santa Ana, and Mr. Matthews is hopeful that he will appreciate the true situation here and take advantage of the exceptional climatic conditions, as well as the unusual natural advantages to be found here in the growing of vegetables.

"If this wouldn't convince anybody that everything around ISN'T frozen I'd like to know what would," said Mr. Matthews. "These vegetables were grown right here in Santa Ana, not somewhere else. We are in the simonpure, blown-in-the-bottle, genuine frostless belt, and here's the product to prove it. Look at those vegetables—can you beat them for size or quality? Not much. They don't raise any better vegetables."

SCOTT FORTUNE PLEDGED FOR DEFICIT

Lord Curzon Calls Nation to Meet Exploration Debt Before Relief Fund Is Made

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Lord Curzon, the president of the Royal Geographical Society, in an open letter to the public, demands that the $150,000 deficit of the British South Polar expedition be paid before an attempt is made to raise funds for the families of the victims in Capt. Scott's exploring party. He declared that Capt. Scott and his wife had pledged their private fortunes to pay the deficit, and that Mrs. Scott must pay it unless the nation comes to the front.

HOUSE IS BROKEN INTO; $20 GONE

Twenty dollars in bills and a little more than a dollar in silver was taken from the residence of Mr. Barker at Newport road and Glen avenue, near Tustin, sometime Thursday afternoon, and presumably by a tramp who broke into the place during the absence of the family. Under Sheriff Law and Deputy District Attorney Koepsel hurried to the scene immediately upon receipt of the news, and they got track of a wanderer, Willie, whom they suspect of committing the robbery. They traced the fellow to Santa Ana, where it is supposed he caught a train and departed.

Santa Ana Aviator Expects to Start Carrying Products Next Wednesday

PRELIMINARY FLIGHT AROUND THIS CITY

Will Give Demonstration to Prove Frost Didn't Ruin Growing Crops

An aerial tour of Southern California points will be begun from Santa Ana next week by Glenn L. Martin, the well-known local aviator who has gained international renown by his daring airship flights, for the purpose of demonstrating to the world that the widely-heralded "frost" that visited some sections recently did comparatively no damage to growing crops with the exception of some orange trees and only in certain localities.

From place to place Martin will carry samples of the fruits and vegetables that each respective locality grows, and distribute them for the information, education and edification of the people at each stopping-place, so they may know by proof positive that their neighbors are still prosperous and growing great crops as usual.

Martin expects to start from Santa Ana on Wednesday next, but the day before he will probably give an exhibition here. He will use the land machine, going direct to Pomona, where he expects to spend Wednesday night. There he will take on a cargo of fruits and vegetables which will give the knockout blow to the false reports that all crops have been nipped by frost. These products he will carry to the big orange show at San Bernardino, from that point he will return to Pasadena for an exhibition, going from the Crown City to Long Beach and San Pedro, returning from the harbor city to Santa Ana. The trip will take about a week.

Martin's start from Santa Ana to Pomona will be begun at 3 o'clock next Wednesday. Before starting the aviator will give a novel demonstration. With exactly one gallon of gasoline in his tank, he will soar upward. He will stay in the air until the gas is gone and his engine stops. That means that he will have to come down. The aviator says that he faces a possibility of this kind every second of the time he is in the air on any flight, and that when his engine stops he must pick a landing spot and volplane to it.

Martin's cross-country flight from Pomona to Pasadena will be officially timed.

Carnegie Medal for Glenn
In consideration of his valiant attempt to rescue Aviator Kearney and Chester Lawrence, a newspaper man, December 18, friends of Aviator Martin are preparing to apply to the Carnegie Hero Medal fund for suitable recognition. Mr. Martin's trip on that occasion is without a parallel in the history of aviation.

Starting from Newport Bay at 8 o'clock in the morning, an hour when few aviators have attempted extended flights, he flew to San Pedro breakwater, where he alighted on the water and took aboard a passenger.

As he flew out over Santa Monica Bay he entered a dense fog bank, but that did not deter him from continuing the search. When the launch was finally sighted off Point Mugu, there was but little fuel remaining in the tank of the machine. In fact ten minutes later the hydro-aeroplane would have been in serious difficulty. But Mr. Martin was not daunted by the heavy ground swell and rough, choppy sea. He alighted on the beach of Santa Barbara channel. The hydro-aeroplane was successfully supplied with fuel and the return trip attempted when the engine gave out. That his hydro-aeroplane was afterwards wrecked, and he has never been recompensed for his loss, will be pointed out in the application.

For the first time in the history of heavier-than-air machines an attempt to save persons imperiled at sea was made by one. Also it was the first time any air craft has been successfully supplied with fuel at sea.

DEMOCRATS WRESTLE WITH TARIFF WORRY

Proposition to Favor Maintenance of the Present Tariff Precipitates Live Discussion

A lively discussion was precipitated this afternoon when the Orange County Democratic Central Committee met in the city hall to discuss a proposition to favor the maintenance of the existing tariff on citrus fruits and sugar beets. Chairman Head had the resolution ready as a suggestive measure; and while for a moment it looked as if the local democracy was going to disregard "tariff reform" slogans and come out in the open for good progressive republicanism, there was a sudden snail that led to a real debate.

Among the members of the committee in attendance were J. A. Smiley, West Orange; Henry Adams, of Anaheim; W. H. Bentley, of Westminster; F. W. Grum, of E. Jones, H. J. Westerman, Gouley stock, A. E. Griggs, of Anaheim; Eli Sparks, of West Anaheim; S. R. Jumper, of Newport Beach; B. J. Westline, of Huntington Beach; James Fullerton and D. C. Pixley, of Orange; Orlando A. Stewart, of Del Rio; George Reburn, of Garden Grove; Horace C. Head, chairman, B. E. Tarver, J. F. Hamilton, secretary, C. D. Overshiner, of Santa Ana; and David Sanchez, of Yorba.

Proposed Resolution

The resolution offered by Chairman Head was as follows: Whereas, a tax burden in the form of a tariff is necessary in order to provide revenue for our government, and

Whereas, we as Democrats, are in favor of distributing that burden as equitably as is possible, of eradicating fraud from the tariff schedules, and of removing the tax from those commodities that are produced in the United States, sent abroad and there sold more cheaply than at home, and

Whereas, we recognize the justice and necessity of placing a reasonable tariff upon certain products of the soil of our country which constitute large and growing industries, in which millions of capital is invested and thousands of our citizens are employed, and which must compete in our home markets with products from foreign countries where pauper labor is employed, and from which shipment to our markets can be made by water at low rates, and

Whereas, citrus fruits, sugar beets and beet sugar are such products in which millions of dollars are invested in our country, and in which many thousands of our citizens are interested and employed, and

Whereas, the value of the annual crop of citrus fruits in Orange county alone amounts to three millions of dollars; that of the sugar beet crop to three millions and a half, and the manufactured sugar to five millions of dollars annually, in said county, and

Whereas, in the production and handling of these crops and products employment is given to a large number of laboring men at remunerative wages based on the American scale of prices, and

Whereas, the removal of the duty on citrus fruits and sugar would admit the products of pauper labor from foreign countries to come into competition with these products of our country, and would result in paralyzing these great industries; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Democratic Central Committee of Orange County, California, that our Congressman, Hon. William Kettner be, and he is hereby instructed to use every honorable means to prevent the removal or reduction of the duties on citrus fruits and sugar; and that all of the representatives in congress from the State of California be, and they are hereby requested and urged to use their best efforts to prevent the removal or reduction of said duties. And be it further Resolved, that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the Hon. William Kettner and the other representatives in congress from the State of California.

Opposition Aroused

Godfrey Lock favored the adoption of the resolution, but he was followed by C. E. Jones, who said he had begun to believe he was in a Republican meeting. He said he believed the tariff on citrus fruit and beets could be cut in half and then there would be a better market and better profits for the growers. Mr. Jumper begged the committee for the Lord's sake to be honest with themselves and the people and remember that the Democrats were pledged to a reduction of the tariff, citrus fruits and everything else. Mr. Stock hinted that the working people were entitled to some consideration and that the tariff helped them.

F. B. Case, general manager of the Southern California Sugar Company, was requested to shed some light on that industry and the tariff, and in a most comprehensive address, he declared that Democratic free trade would mean the ruin of the sugar industry in this country.

As the Register went to press the committee was still wrangling over the question.

Introduces Resolution to That Effect—Would Give Week For Strike Settlement

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—At noon today the officials of the Firemen's Brotherhood rejected counter proposals of fifty-four eastern railroads involved in a threatened firemen's strike.

WOULD HAVE GOVERNMENT SEIZE FIFTY-FOUR RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Authorizing the government to seize and operate the fifty-four eastern railroads affected by the threatened firemen's strike, Congressman Berger introduced a resolution in the house providing for government control of the strike situation. If adopted the resolution would become operative if the strike should last more than one week.

It provides that when the strikers are unable to settle their differences, the government shall "seize the railroads' terminals, belt lines, coal mines, workshops and all other property, on the ground of a great public emergency."

The postmaster general would operate all the lines until congress could inaugurate a department of railways.

The Turkish flag was handed to the German consul for safe keeping.

ORANGE SHOW TO BE CORKER

Twenty Feature Displays Will
Light Up Biggest of Citrus
Expositions

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 15.—Twenty great feature displays, some of them costing as high as $2,000, and with action in every line, will be shown at the third National Orange Show in San Bernardino the coming week, Feb. 17 to 22.

As the opening day for the big citrus exposition draws closer, and the exhibits near completion, the statement that it will be the greatest fruit exposition ever held on the Pacific coast is more than justified. Never has there been such a lavish showing of attractive displays as will be found under the two great tents at the orange show.

A dozen of the most prominent men in the commercial and official life of the state will speak at the opening ceremonies Monday evening. A half dozen bands will make melody for the 100,000 people who will see the show during the week, while the industrial and amusement features will add variety to this greatest of all citrus fruit expositions.

Exhibitors are already on the ground from the great central valleys of the state, also from all portions of Southern California. Carloads of fruit are arriving daily from every section of the state, hundreds of artists and workmen are transforming the interior of the big tents into a veritable fairyland, and San Bernardino city is in gala for the entertainment of throngs of visitors who will witness this remarkable exposition of the citrus industry.

Excursion rates apply on all railroads, while special excursions will be run to the show from many of the Southern California cities.

DISCUSS BOULEVARD THROUGH ANAHEIM

From Compton Via Artesia and Santa Ana Canyon as Far as Riverside

About twenty good roads enthusiasts from Redondo and Compton were in Anaheim Wednesday evening for a brief visit, their object being the boosting of the proposed Redondo-to-Riverside boulevard, says the Orange County Plain Dealer.

The visitors were on their way home from Riverside and Corona, where they had been royally entertained during the day and found enthusiasm at a high pitch over the proposed boulevard.

While here the visitors were entertained by J. W. Duckworth and other citizens and were given to understand that Anaheim would co-operate to the fullest extent in establishing the road as outlined. The boosters did not arrive here until about 7 o'clock, and their stay was necessarily short.

The route of the proposed boulevard is from Redondo to Compton, via Artesia to Anaheim, thence up the Santa Ana canyon to Corona and Riverside. A considerable portion of the road is now fenced and provision made for additional construction through good roads bond issues. To finish the stretches now remaining unprovided for is what the Redondo and Compton boosters are soliciting assistance for.

GLASS FACTORY FOR HUNTINGTON BEACH

Pittsburg Capitalists Are Considering Proposition for Location

At a special meeting of the Board of Trade held at its rooms Thursday evening, Manager Heffner of the Huntington Beach Company announced that his company is now negotiating with L. Branigan and Dr. Sherman, representing the Macbeth Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., for the location of one of its glass factories in this city, on the site of the present baseball park, near First street, says the Huntington Beach News. The glass company has agreed to put in a contract to construct furnaces here at a cost of fifteen thousand dollars and to employ eighty men continuously throughout the year if a deed to the site is also put in escrow.

The value of the property is about twenty-five hundred dollars, but the Huntington Beach Company will probably make the price of the land very low if a sufficient sum can be raised here to buy it for the factory.

Operatives in a glass factory such as that contemplated earn big wages and become permanent citizens of the community where their livelihood is earned. For this reason, the location of such a factory in this city, operating all the year round, would mean a big increase in every line of local trade.

The factory would make fine Bohemian glassware, importing the sand and other materials needed for the purpose, and its object in seeking a location here is to obtain a site where climatic conditions are favorable—where the air is cool at all times, as great heat is generated in these factories. According to Manager Heffner's statement at Thursday night's meeting of the Board of Trade, negotiations have been in progress between his company and the glass factory officials for several months but they have finally reached what he terms a "business stage."

The matter was referred to the manufacturing and commerce committee of the Board of Trade, of which T. B. Talbert is chairman.

BATTLE BEGUN TO DRIVE SALOONS FROM ANAHEIM

Anaheim Gazette: The opening gun in a campaign for the eradication of the licensed saloons in the city of Anaheim was fired at the Presbyterian church Sunday night by Miss Glenn Will, secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of Southern California, who gave a reading from the book "Particeps Criminis," or a "California Rabbit Drive," of which E. S. Chapman, head of the Anti-Saloon League, is the author. The book portrays in vivid style the rabbit drive, formerly common in the upper part of the state, and likens the horrors of the scene to the driving to death of hundreds of the young men of the country by the liquor traffic. Miss Will's reading was heard by 5000 people and the church was taxed to its utmost capacity to hold the throng which gathered to hear her. Other churches in the city omitted their evening services and the attendance represented all denominations in the city. The reading was illustrated by forty stereopticon slides, and proved of interest to all.

Miss Juanita Powers favored the large audience with a vocal selection and Evangelist C. W. W. Daniels sang "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight," with an assembly joining in the chorus.

Following the meeting it was announced by members of the Anti-Saloon organization that an election would be called in this city to vote upon prohibition within the next six months. Petitions asking the city trustees to call such an election under the initiative and referendum act will probably be in circulation in the near future. It is necessary to secure 20 per cent of the voters in order to insure a call for such an election.

That prohibition will be stubbornly fought by those opposed to a dry town is undoubtedly true, and a hot municipal campaign for and against the sale of liquor is anticipated. In addition to men actively engaged in the liquor business are many men engaged in other lines of business who believe that a dry town is a dead town. These will be lined up against prohibition. A very pretty fight seems to be in prospect.

$80 an ACRE

For Land Cleared and Ditched including
FREE PRO RATA OWNERSHIP
in Water Rights Canal's Irrigation Systems

WHY PAY MORE

And Get Less

You can't buy land for $1000 an acre any better than the land we are selling for only $80 an acre all cleared and ditched ready for cultivation—$90 an acre for land with the crop now growing on it—and remember that these prices include free pro rata ownership in all the water rights, canal and irrigation system now in operation.

We are NOT charging people $1 an acre to "LOCATE" them on raw brush desert land way out in the wilderness where no water is available. We are selling land right on the railroad near Phoenix, Arizona, where great big heads of over a thousand inches of water irrigate our beautiful green fields for over half a mile without a check. We are selling land that you can move on to right now and go to making money, and when we sell you land you get your money's worth. We are the pioneer sellers of bona fide irrigated Arizona lands and do not wish to be confused with the irresponsible "locators" who are trading on our reputation and are locating unsuspecting people ignorant of Arizona conditions on land where water is not available.

All we ask is an opportunity to take you on one of our cheap excursions and let you see for yourself. Take advantage of our trustee's sale to secure land at about half its real value. Call at our offices or write for illustrated booklets.

Influx of Tourists Continues
Day After Day Without Sign of Cessation

"It is really wonderful the number of visitors we are having every day," said Secretary Metzgar of the Chamber of Commerce today, after a party of visitors had taken the trouble to place their names on the big register that the city's progressive civic organization maintains for that purpose.

"I don't believe one-fifth of the people who call here register," Secretary Metzgar continued. "Sometimes they are more eager to register than they are on other occasions. But take it all in all, we are having an unusually large number of visitors. They don't come in sporadic bunches, but come in day after day. The climate appeals to all of them, but not more so than the unrivaled farming opportunities that they find here. One experienced farmer from Iowa, who said he had been farming in the Hawkeye state for over thirty years, made a careful inspection of our exhibit room and then remarked: 'Well, I've farmed a long time, but I'm beginning to think I really never knew what real farming is!'"

"And this man isn't alone in such conclusion. It happens every day. The men who know soil and how to work it, hardly know what to think of it when they consider what wonderful opportunities are offered here in the farming line and under such admirable conditions—conditions that they never dreamed of where they came from. No fearful winters to contend with, but one continual round of ideal climatic advantages. We are certainly attracting attention in Orange county this winter."

Among the visitors yesterday were: Wm. F. Riddle, St. Paul; Mrs. C. W. Miller, Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. J. U. S. Mason, Merced, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Newell, Waverly, Ia.; Wm. R. Burns, Chula Vista, Cal.; Mrs. W. S. Chaffield, Waterbury, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Nauman, Portland, Me.; Mrs. A. L. Wilson, Lyndon, Kas.; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. The Star In "Naughty Marietta" Had Her Own Worries 'Till She Won

FLORENCE WEBBER, LAURA BAER, JOHN CARDO AND EDWARD BECK, WITH HAMMERSTEIN COMIC OPERA CO., PRESENTING NAUGHTY MARIETTA

Florence Webber, who has created a positive furore in theatricals because of her delightful performance as "Naughty Marietta," ran away from her home less than eight years ago to go on the stage as a chorus girl in "The Prince of Pilsen." As she was only fourteen years old at that time, her father had her arrested and returned to him. Of course, all this was a tragedy to her at the time, yet it is one of her fondest recollections now, especially as she has risen to complete stardom since her youthful escapade.

Her childish mind looked only at the romantic side of the profession and when she embarked on her career—which, by the way, consisted of only one night's performance—she forgot all about taking any clothes with her and took in their stead such things as perfume, artificial flowers, etc.—but no clothes—not even a nightgown. Included, however, it was to be a path strewn with roses, and it was until she joined her company.

After she was engaged—her voice readily securing her a position—her equilibrium was rudely spoiled by the manager brusquely asking her if she was knock-kneed. She said she wasn't—but now admits that she did not even know what he meant. She was advised that she would be "fired" if she had knock knees, so her anxiety on this point is easily understood. She evidently passed, for nothing more was said to her on this subject.

Next day her career was cut short, for a police officer from her home town took her home. She cried until she was sick—then settled herself down to study—and now she is the most promising singing comedienne in theatricals. Thus the old saying, "a poor beginning means a good ending," is vindicated.

"Naughty Marietta" will be presented at the Santa Ana opera house February 20.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATS AT LOGGERHEADS OVER THE PROSPECTS OF PATRONAGE

After a period of harmony lasting since the opening of the legislature, the ranks of the California Democrats have again been split over the old difficulty of patronage. The question of who will get the plums at the disposal of President-elect Woodrow Wilson is the one big issue in the party just now.

There is a gubernatorial background to the fight over the real struggle just now is as to who is to secure the position of collector of the port of San Francisco to succeed Frederick S. Stratton. There were a number of minor candidates in the field up to a few weeks ago, with no one in the high position. Now there are two big figures in California Democracy out for the job. The latest development in the fight is the circulation of a petition by R. H. DeWitt of Yreka, former chairman of the Democratic state central committee. He wants the San Francisco collector's job. He is of the faction of the party that is "out" just now. His public utterances regarding Woodrow Wilson are not of a favorable nature, yet he is now attempting to secure the endorsement of the members of the state central committee to his position.

Against him chiefly in the fight is J. O. Davis, former member of the legislature, erstwhile Hollister boss, and at present chairman of the Democratic state central committee. It is to be a hard fight, and one in which the ranks of the California Democrats have again been split over the old difficulty of patronage. The question of who will get the plums at the disposal of President-elect Woodrow Wilson is the one big issue in the party just now.

As a side fight, the race for the position of superintendent of the mint in San Francisco is being given considerable attention. State Senator T. W. H. Shanahan is an active candidate for the appointment, against Stephen J. Still of Berkeley, who was a candidate for presidential elector. Both candidates have considerable state strength, but Shanahan has secured the written endorsement of a majority of the members of the Democratic minority in the legislature, and by that fact has stolen a march on his Berkeley opponent.

The gubernatorial contest is still about two years away, but already the rumblings of a fight have been heard. Assemblyman J. W. Struckmbeck of Acampo, San Joaquin county, who is a crossroads blacksmith and who was a city attorney back in the middle states, is being boomed as a "people's man" in the fight. State Senator John Curtin of Sonoma is out for the job on the Democratic side.

SELECT SIX PARTY HELD UNDER AUSPICES OF POLICE

It was "hobo night" last night in police department circles, half a dozen visitors accepting invitations to join in the merry festivities in the city jail until Justice Cox had time this morning to send them to the county jail.

The selected six gave their names as Manuel Ortega, Manuel Onopa, John War, who was chaperoned by Officers Hamilton and Murray; Jim Handley, who was the personal guest of Marshal Jernigan and Officer Murray; John Smith, who also received his invitation from the same officials; and Tom Ryan, whom Officers Davenport and Preston had prevailed upon to lay aside other matters of state and society and grace the occasion with his presence.

Most of the invitations were served by the officers at a box car festival in the Santa Fe railroad yards, where the men were rusticated and thanking their lucky stars that they were in Santa Ana enjoying the summer season and not back in "Chi" or other eastern points freezing to death. "Say, this is certainly great weather, ho," remarked the man with the peaceful name, Mr. War.

"Uhuh, oo, this is some climate," acquiesced Smith.

"Si, si, senior," admitted Ortega and Onopa in the same garbled breaths.

"Aw, ewan," spluttered Bo Ryan. "Dis is a tell of a country. Wot?"

There's no free meals served without oranges."

"Let's try the city jail and see," suggested the soothing voices of Officers Hamilton and Murray; and thus the "party" was started.

Mr. Ryan insisted that he had lost his Alaskan seal robe or in broken language "a blanket"—and while Ryan and Murray were looking about they met Mr. Smith. The latter didn't have the blanket but he did have a large revolver on his hip, which was sufficient to get him invited to police headquarters until his social status could be fixed to a dead moral certainty.

The night was spent in social chatting and was followed by a light morning repast. An auto ride through the city was dispensed with but later in the morning there was a walking tour which terminated in a visit to the county jail, where the members of the party will remain for some days to come and go.

Mr. Ryan likes the climate so well that, acting upon the suggestion of Justice Cox he will be the guest of Sheriff Ruddock the next ensuing ten days. His five compatriots will spend the Sabbath at the same hostelry and on Monday afternoon will attend a three o'clock reception in Justice Cox's court room where it will be determined whether they will remain here any length of time or "beat it."

"Layne" Patented Multi-Stage Centrifugal Pump

No Pits—No Death Traps

The Pump That Needs No Pit

The pump that will go inside a 10-inch casing and deliver 50 inches of water—a 12-inch casing and deliver 80 inches of water. Larger casings that admit our larger pumps, give proportionate increase of inches of water.

A Pump Possessing the Following Good Qualities:

First—The Layne Patent Multi-stage Centrifugal Pump is so constructed that it will pass freely on the inside of a pit or casing ranging in size from 9 1/2 to 30 inches, and can be installed at any desired depth up to 500 feet, there being no ungainly side discharge or shoulders so common in other makes of centrifugal pumps. After the pump is installed, we have a continuous line of steel shafting enclosed in a pipe through which a bath of oil from the head of the pump passes continually, thereby preventing wear and causing the shaft to run perfectly cool. The shafting is also held in line by a sufficient number of bearings which are located on the inside of the small pipe.

Second—The discharge pipe, which varies with the size of pump, is screwed into a flange in the top of same, and from this discharge pipe, which connects with the discharge "tee" at the top of the pit, the pump is suspended like a carpenter's "plumb," thereby absolutely insuring the perfect alignment of the shafting. On the inside of this discharge pipe in the center thereof passes the small pipe, which contains the lubricant and also the shafting and bearings. The water passing up through the discharge pipe surrounds this small pipe, thereby keeping the oil bath cool and preventing the phosphor-bronze shaft bearings from heating.

Third—At the point of discharge, above the surface of the ground, is located our discharge "tee" or pump head. This head screws on to the top of the discharge pipe, and through this head passes the shafting, at the top of which is keyed our over-hung pulley which varies in size in keeping with speed desired, or connection for direct connected motor. Just below the pulley is located our Patented Slow Speed Roller thrust bearing, which sustains the weight of the shafting and runners, and is encased in a bath of oil which is kept perfectly cool by the flow of water under the same.

Fourth—The runners are adjusted from the surface without the necessity of removing any of the working parts of the pump. By this means the runners can be raised or lowered from the surface without having to go down into the pit. This is one of our greatest advantages, as any irrigator will certify who has risked his life by going down into the old style dug pits, always reeking with stench from dead rabbits and decaying matter, to say nothing of the risk of becoming entangled in the revolving shafting or becoming thoroughly soaked in the grease and oil always present in the old style pit.

Fifth—The pump is designed and built for the different conditions under which it is required to operate in keeping with the capacity and the pressure against which it must work. We have found by experiment that a pump which will go into a pit or casing having a diameter of about 9 1/2 inches for handling from 150 to 400 gallons of water per minute is the smallest size of centrifugal pump advisable to be used; while on the other hand, a pump having a diameter of from twenty-four to thirty inches and which will handle from 850 to 4,500 gallons per minute, is sufficiently large to deliver the water supply found in any of our best wells.

Our pumps are built in one or more stages, in keeping with the lift required.

By using two runners or more in the pump, the speed of the shafting is reduced under fixed heads, and the life of the pump is lengthened. No soft packing gland is required in our pump, even though the water supply should recede below the pump to the suction limit during the time the pump is in operation, as the lower runner discharges the water into the upper runner, thus keeping the upper runner submerged and obviating the necessity of a "stuffing box" or packing gland in the pump.

The Layne Pump Possesses the Following Cardinal Features:

Runs submerged, has no foot valves, no suction troubles, no unbalancing possible, all bearings enclosed from water and grit, no stuffing boxes, needs no priming, no pits necessary, no mechanism necessary to adjust runners, absolutely unaffected by sand.

All the moving parts of the pump, with the exception of the runners, work in an oil bath—water cooled.

Gives more water at less expense than any pump now in use.

THE STOMACH IN HUNGER

The hundredth anniversary of the entry of one of America's pioneer medical investigators, Dr. William Beaumont, into the practice of medicine was fittingly commemorated last year. The devoted efforts of this undaunted man of science—a backwoods physiologist, as Oster has suggestively designated him—have furnished the inspiration to a number of successors to repeat the observations which Beaumont made on his famous subject Alexis St. Martin, the man with the "lid on his stomach."

Recently Professor Carlson of the University of Chicago has made a number of observations on a young man in normal health who for the last sixteen years has fed himself through a permanent opening in the stomach wall owing to complete closure of the esophagus as the result of accidentally drinking a strong solution of caustic soda. He has furnished some interesting and conclusive contributions to the physiology of hunger.

There have been diverse theories of hunger from earlier days to the present era. Until quite recently it has been widely believed that hunger is a general bodily sensation with a local reference to the stomach.

Some authorities have vigorously combated this view, and maintain that hunger is not a general sensation. Experiments have led to the conclusion that hunger results from powerful contractions of the stomach. With this general view the observations which Carlson has now been able to make on his new subject are in accord. He finds that the empty stomach exhibits, at least during the first twenty-four hours after a meal, two types of rhythmic movements; one is feeble but continuous; the other consists of strong contractions. In the earlier periods of hunger at any rate, the empty stomach is never completely at rest. Hunger, or the lack of it, is a condition which at times commands the considerate attention of the physician. The absence of hunger in fevers can now be accounted for by the total cessation of all movements of the stomach in serious infections. This also explains the inordinate appetites of certain classes of nervous patients. Physiologic observations on an occasional unfortunate individual, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, serve a useful purpose by directing attention to numerous little-understood and hitherto unexplained manifestations of disease.

ATHLETICS AND HEALTH

University athletics and the conduct of intercollegiate contests should receive a more serious consideration from those who assume responsibility for these features of American college life. Too often any criticism of long-established practices is resented or ignored because it would abolish or modify some firmly implanted customs. Only after years of patient unrelenting effort has the plea for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July led to a reform which will soon evolve into a nation-wide plan of rational celebration. Persistent exposure of the dangers of reckless football contests with their attendant fatalities cannot fail to bring welcome changes sooner or later. This is a most timely moment in which to inaugurate a campaign against athletic recklessness. Conservation is the key-note in a campaign of progress in all departments of national activity. Propaganda for the conservation of health and life is directly furthered by this more general spirit of the times. If college athletics of today are a menace to health, they cannot escape the attack of those who are alert for every evidence of human extravagance and waste. The enthusiasts for physical education have hitherto failed to emphasize the important distinction between those strenuous performances which tax the capacities of the body to its utmost, and that exercise in the term "athletics," and that exercise of the bodily functions more appropriately included under the designation "physical education." Europeans have a far happier expression for the employment of their bodily activities in the word "sport," which implies the combination of a healthy spirit of pleasure and satisfaction with what we call exercise. Such an attitude is almost unknown here. Instead, there exists a form of overdoing that finds its chief reward in the applause of the multitude rather than in the joy of the performance. "Athletics" have long been under the dominance of so-called "trainers," frequently men of keen judgment and technical skill, but usually persons without any systematic acquaintance with physiologic truths. Their sole concern is to turn out a winning team or a victorious athletic giant. The best intellectual feature of rival contests—the encouragement for each man to put forth the best that is in him and to exercise his own ingenuity in the development and maintenance of an efficient, superior body—is suppressed by the advent of that guardian saint, the trainer. It can be freely admitted, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, that the cultivation of physical intelligence furnishes a valuable asset to man in developing coordination and promoting health and happiness. But when the results of vigorous sports or exhausting struggles are involved, something more than a "pardonable pride in an expanding chest and swelling biceps" should furnish the guiding motive. The obvious abuses of athletics must be threshed out.

The Proven Citrus Area

Said to be Greatly Restricted

In this connection, the word "proven" is intended to apply to land in districts where the crop and the young trees are practically immune from serious damage by frost or cold. That this "proven citrus area" has been greatly restricted by the recent severe freeze, no one will deny. While this is to be regretted, it is none the less true.

Much of the so-called "citrus-land" will in future be given over to alfalfa, deciduous fruits, or other crops less subject to damage from cold than oranges or lemons. With a smaller acreage available for growing citrus fruits, and an ever increasing demand, "proven citrus land" is bound to bring higher prices. In the purchase of land for orange or lemon culture one should investigate conditions thoroughly, to avoid the possibilities of future disappointment. Soil, water, drainage, relative elevation, freedom from harmful winds—all are important.

If you are in the market for citrus land, you will be interested to know the many advantages North Whittier

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The strenuous study of the week was broken by a short program Wednesday in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday. The Girls' Glee Club lead the school in the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Principal McMath in a few appropriate words introduced the speaker of the morning, Mr. S. M. Davis.

Mr. Davis said in part that we are fortunate in knowing Lincoln as a real man for as the ages pass great men take the forms of demi-gods and mythical characters. He brought home to the students many practical present day lessons. Lincoln was a student always and persistent in his plans for his future. In his boyhood days Lincoln was of the best character. His stepmother says that he never gave her a cross word or look. His later life earned for him the nickname, "Honest Abe." His life was without reproach; he never smoked, drank or swore. He received the greatest reward it is possible for the American people to give, the office of president of the United States, and he attained what was even greater than that, second place if not first in the hearts of his countrymen. Lincoln's famous Emancipation Proclamation ranks as one of the three great documents of the world's history.

Mr. Davis is always welcome at the high school for the students are sure of something worth while. The singing of "America" closed the program for the morning.

Sickness has caused the absence of a number of the faculty in the last few weeks. Miss Gall is confined to her home this week with a case of measles. Mr. Shaw of the manual training department has also been on the sick list with an attack of the gripe.

Mr. Arthur Chamberlain, editor of the Sierra Educational News, visited the schools of the city Wednesday. The News is the official paper of the State Teachers' Association and is published at San Francisco.

Mr. Hammond has been chosen as head of the Spanish department. Three years of Spanish are now given at the high school. Not so very long ago, however, no classes were engaged in the study. Finally it was taken up as a branch subject in the commercial department and now, about four years later it has grown to be one of the most popular and profitable courses on the program. There are now three teachers employed, Mr. Hammond, Miss Steffey and Mrs. Buerger, who arrived this week from Berkeley. Mrs. Buerger has had much teaching experience and in addition has lived for four years in Mexico and will no doubt prove a valuable aid to the students in her department.

As evidence of its popularity, seventeen of the fifty-six grammar school graduates who entered high school this week have taken up the study of the upper classmen, a beginners' class of thirty-two.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic assembly meeting for a number of weeks was that held yesterday morning. A number of business matters were at that time presented to the student body. The first was the installation of the new student body president, Ernest Plavin surrendering the office to Stewart Smith.

Miss Shatto of the faculty reviewed the basketball situation. Today at 1:30 Santa Ana played Orange for the championship of the county in girls' basketball. Those making the team were Elsie Lutz, Irene Jacques, Hester Robinson, Julia Pavlych, Dahlia Malan and Anna Jacobs. Hester Robinson in a short talk championed the same cause.

Manager Warren and Captain West presented reports of their activities. Sophie Hardy, debating manager, presented her report of the Glendale debate. The total expenses of the contest were $14.85 and the receipts were $16.90, leaving a balance of $2.05.

Irvine Burns, tennis manager, read his report at this time. Tennis affairs have been rather quiet but will live up in a short time.

Coach Ratcliffe cleared what misunderstanding there may have been in the minds of the students concerning the finances of the student body. A short time ago there was plenty of money in the treasury and now there is none, but it will be remembered that sweaters were bought for the football team and a track team was sent to San Diego. The finances have always been cared for wisely and no exception to that rule has occurred.

George Faul, acting for Taylor Bros., presented the football team with some handsome pillow tops. Each bears a large photograph of the team and the pillows are indeed works of art.

Miss Wyant of the English department read a communication from Harold Bruce, instructor in public speaking of Pomona College, announcing an oratorical contest to be held in the college chapel at Claremont on March 22. The contest is to stimulate enthusiasm in public speaking and is limited to one contestant from each high school in Southern California. Gold, silver and bronze medals are to be awarded for first three places. The speakers will be entertained by the college the day and night of March 22.

Plans have been under way for the publication of a weekly school paper. Malcolm Tedford yesterday presented the proposition to the students for their sanction. By a large majority it was decided to issue the paper.

MR. ROHRS WAS HOST

St. Valentine Was Remembered by Gay Company at Pleasant Supper

Albert Rohrs was host last night at a sumptuous seven-course chicken dinner at his home on Santa Clara avenue, entertaining twenty of his friends.

Good Saint Valentine was the patron of the supper, all the decorations being significant of his benign influence. From the electrolier swung red ribbons strung with red hearts, the silken ropes leading to each plate. In the center of the table was an immense heart-shaped box filled with fortunes, good, bad and indifferent—mostly good—and to each mystic slip was attached a narrow red ribbon that extended to the plate of a guest. The reading of the prognostications of future weal or woe was an animated proceeding, and the dinner hour was a merry one.

Equally happy was the remainder of the evening, games appropriate to the good saint being indulged in. The time for good nights came all too soon for the gay company, every member of which will always remember most pleasantly the jolly Valentine party at which Mr. Rohrs was host.

Delightful Evening

A delightful evening was spent by the Berean Sunday school class of the First Methodist church last night, at the Price home on F street, thirty of its members being present. The evening was spent in a lively business meeting, planning ways to better the class individually and collectively.

Light refreshments were served, consisting of coffee, sandwiches and cake. Through the courtesy of Mr. Bunday and Mr. Leister, the ladies were taken to and from the affair in autos.

Artistic Luncheon

Miss C. E. Dresser charmingly entertained on Thursday with a luncheon for Mrs. Addie Jameson, president of the Los Angeles Lyric Club; Mrs. Jessie Bartlett-Frankel of Hollywood, who has achieved more than a local reputation as a reader and singer; Mrs. Minnie Bartlett, mother of Mrs. Frankel and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Raftery. Favors were of artistic significance, being brief musical compositions by Miss Dresser. The place cards were of the same nature, the initials of each guest being arranged as the notes on a music staff. In addition to the musical suggestions, Valentine symbols of hearts and Cupids were employed with flowers in the scheme of red and white. A narcissus and cupid centerpiece was particularly effective.

Glad to Get Back Here

Mrs. B. T. Gotthard of Wintersburg returned yesterday from Cambridge, Wyo., where she has been visiting her sister and other relatives. She will spend a few days with her mother, Mrs. Krauchi, before going home. In her two months' absence she never saw the ground once for the snow. It was 26 degrees below in Wyoming. Altogether Mrs. Gotthard was very glad to get back to sunny California.

Stainer's "Crucifixion"

At the urgent request of a large number who were unable to attend last year and also of many who did attend, the beautiful "Crucifixion," by John Stainer, will be repeated on Good Friday night, March 21st, at the First Baptist Church.

MEN WERE HONOR GUESTS

P. O. E. Ladies Hostesses at Whist Party for Their Husbands Last Evening

The ladies of the P. E. O. Society entertained their husbands and a few other favored gentlemen last night at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Collier on Orange avenue. In honor of the patron saint of the day, the house was gayly festooned with hearts intertwined with ropes of smilax.

Whist was the game of the evening, the score cards being adorned with little Dutch kiddies and inscribed with verses appropriate to the occasion. Prizes for high score were won by Miss Swartzlander, who received a pretty jardiniere, and Mr. Collier, who was presented with a book. Miss Best was consoled with a heart-shaped box of candy, and Will Wakeham with a valentine.

After the merriment of the whist games, a delicious two course collation was served. Each table was adorned with a bouquet of violets, and a heart motif was carried out in the refreshments.

As they departed the gentlemen expressed the hope that they had conducted themselves so fittingly that the ladies would soon entertain them again.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames H. S. Kittle, H. T. Ruth, J. W. Tubbs, C. M. Jordan, F. C. Rowland, L. L. Whitson, Carl G. Strook, Will McFadden, L. A. Collier, W. F. Mrs. Prince has known the Boddles for the past thirty-four years. The Boddles are delighted with Southern California. Their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder from New York, who are touring with them, are equally delighted with the lovely climate and scenic charms of the state.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Gertrude Fuller Honoree of Valentine Affair at Bush Street Home

Last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fuller, 1402 North Bush street, a birthday party was given in honor of Miss Gertrude Fuller, the daughter of the house. The rooms were attractively decorated with cupid and hearts.

Many interesting games were played and music was also a feature of the evening. A piano duet was played by Miss Helen Avery and Roy Criddle. A vocal solo was given by Miss Vera Shoemaker, accompanied by Miss Avery.

The refreshments were delicious, consisting of a dainty birthday cake, ices in which were frozen pink hearts and small candy hearts that were adorned with pretty white cupid. Those present besides the hostess, Miss Fuller, were Misses Dorothy Summers, Helen Avery, Mamie Tucker, Vera Shoemaker, Clara Dugan, Ethel Morrow, Frank Cook, Roy Criddle, Ralph McCowan, Charles Fay, James Nickolson, Charles Jackman.

Art Club Meeting

The Art Study Club met with Mrs. Geo. Smith Friday evening. Mrs. A. J. Lawton gave an interesting talk on Roman sculpture with pictures to illustrate. The subject was informally discussed by the members. The president, Miss Carter, is very enthusiastic and has outlined the subject so as to lead up to American sculpture, which has reached the highest standard of any nation of the present day.

A guest of the club was Mrs. P. C. Rude of Perry, Ia., an artist who is the guest of Miss Talbot of Ross street.

Mrs. Smith served fruit and nuts at the close of the meeting, after which a social hour was enjoyed. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. J. Padgham, Feb. 26.

Economics Section

The Fifth Economics Section of the Ebbs Society met with Miss May Taylor on Friday afternoon, at her home on North Main street. Mrs. A. J. Lawton, the general curator of the Ebbs Society, was a guest of the section.

Mrs. F. H. McElree, the leader of the section, read a very interesting article on adulterated foods and the pure food law, a general discussion on the paper following.

Tested recipes for cake, bread and pies were given each member, the subject for the day being bread, cake and pastry.

Miss Taylor and her committee demonstrated the subject by serving appetizing refreshments of lemon pie, nut bread, sandwiches and cocoa.

Amphion Circle Playlet

A most enjoyable meeting of the Amphion Circle of the Congregational Church was held on Thursday afternoon at the attractive home of Mrs. Frederick H. Eley on Garvey street. The circle has recently been divided into four sections, for the purpose of promoting acquaintance and sociability among the members, and as this was the first meeting under the new regime much curiosity and interest prevailed as to the kind of entertainment the committee would provide. The program was certainly a pleasant surprise to the members and their invited guests. A clever little farce entitled "Our Aunt from California" was presented by the following cast:

Felicia Needy—Miss Ida Nax.
Rosalee Needy—Miss Grace Talcott.
Sally Needy—Mrs. Eley.
Mrs. Needy—Miss Ada O'Brien.
Miss Wilcoxengib, their dressmaker—Mrs. Lewis Ewing.
Mrs. Merry Muntoburn, their Aunt from California—Miss Louie Lipplatt.

Every part was well taken and there was a general wish expressed that the little play might be repeated at an early date. At the close of the program the committee served refreshments in which the Valentine idea was carried out. And now everybody is wondering what will be the character of the next meeting.

Clio Club Evening

The Clio Club held its regular social meeting at the home of Miss Gladys Thomas last Thursday evening. The house was artistically decorated, and after many amusing and interesting games refreshments were served.

added to the rapidly growing membership of the local chapter, which has as its goal the building of a fine club house. The proceeds of the Woman's Exchange are being laid away with that end in view. The proceeds from the fancy work and cooked foods for the month of December were over $300.

At yesterday's meeting final arrangements were made to take over the agency for the World's Star Kated goods, from Mr. De Wolfe, who has conducted a splendid trade during the past six years, but has had to give it up because of failing eye sight. However, the ladies have arranged to have Mr. De Wolfe still receive a percentage of the proceeds from the sales. All his old customers who have become acquainted with the superiority of the goods will be doing Mr. De Wolfe as well, as the exchange a favor by having their orders at the new headquarters.

Today Mrs. J. B. Rowland, the energetic president of the Santa Ana chapter, together with officers and members, are enjoying a luncheon at Orange, being guests of the Orange chapter, who have also as their guests the members of the Fullerton chapter.

The club had three guests, Mrs. Fred Lott, Mrs. Arthur Lott of Newport Beach, and Mrs. Meeker of Montana. The club members present were Mesdames C. T. Johnson, George Kroll, Ila Bishop, Dan Adams, Chas. Carey, Nellie Young, J. E. Liebig, Margher.

The club is planning a week-end house party at Newport Beach, where the ladies will occupy the Powers and Fargher cottages. Their husbands will join them on Sunday morning for the day.

Graduate Reunion
At the Pearson's home on Willett street last night the members of the class that graduated from McKinley school in June, 1912, met together for the first time since graduation. In looking over the class of thirty-one, sixteen were found to be in the Santa Ana High School. Of these, Robert Brown is on the first baseball team, and Esther Bird received a card at mid-term with all "B's" on it. Eva Thierp is in Huntington Beach High School, and Ruth Southwell is in the Manual Arts High school of Los Angeles; Adelia Rimsley is studying music; Remus Fippis is learning the plasterer's trade; Perry Ballard and Hilliard Griggs are in the telegraph service, while Dexter Martin is working for the Post bicycle shop.

The class met at the McKinley kindergarten and went together to the Pearson home. The evening was spent in playing "Jerusalem Jerusalem," "Who Is Your Right-hand Neighbor?" and "Hearts." Julian Mathews, with his cornet took the crowd back to McKinley days, where for three years they marched to music by an orchestra led by Julian. He played several selections very beautifully, and was accompanied by Lela Sebastian, who has practiced with him until they entertain very enjoyably.

Refreshments consisting of tamales, pickles, crackers and lemonade were served by Mrs. Pearson and Mary Pearson, who is of the class of 1913. Mrs. Pearson showed the class an English rum bottle brought over in the Mayflower by William Brewster, a family connection, and some horn spoons brought from Alaska. The young people enjoyed the evening fully and will long remember the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Pearson.

Those present were: Former teachers, Misses Hazel Bemis, Farla Bemis, Della Wright; pupils, Hazel Collum, Matea Jacque, Esther Bird, Cassie Pearson, Ruth Burson, Elizabeth Laurance, May Jacque, Julia Pavlich, Lela Sebastian, Ruth Holmes, Eleanor Sturgeon, Robert Holmes, Remus Fippis, Perry Ballard, Norman Walker, Arthur Summers, Clarence Strong, Harry McVay, Julian Mathews, Dexter Martin, Hilliard Griggs.

LUNCHEON FOR STAFF
Mrs. C. W. Sheets Entertains in Honor of Aides in Installing Work

Mrs. C. W. Sheets was hostess yesterday with a prettily arranged luncheon given to the ladies who have been her aides in the installation of officers of Rebekah lodges in Orange County, Mrs. Sheets being district deputy president.

The living room was gay with ropes of red crepe paper and red hearts, all significant of St. Valentine's day. In the dining room where luncheon was served at one o'clock, there were ropes of greenery from which pink hearts were suspended, pink and green being the Rebekah colors. Daylight was excluded and pink shaded candles furnished the soft light that glowed over the pretty scene. Pink was prevalent in the refreshments.

Pink hearts, numbered, were passed in a basket and each lady found her place at the table by finding the corresponding heart similarly numbered. One of the hearts bore the design of the Queen of Hearts, entitling the lady fortunate enough to draw it, to sit at the head of the table. Mrs. E. R. Curtis was the lucky guest and after being duly escorted to her place was crowned with a dainty gold coronet.

Guessing games were the afternoon diversions, Mrs. Lacy winning a pretty framed picture, "Cupid Asleep," in one of the contests. Each guest had taken with her a valentine for every other guest, so that each one had a generous supply. A parcel post delivery was instituted with Miss Nellie Bacon and Mrs. Fred Wilkes as post girls.

Mrs. Wilkes assisted her mother, Mrs. Sheets, in the entertainment of the guests, who were Mrs. E. R. Curtis, Mrs. Theo. Lacy, Mrs. A. E. Shoemaker, Mrs. Geo. Magill, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. J. M. Burlew, Mrs. J. R. McMurdo, Mrs. Jas. Clark, Mrs. George Prather, Mrs. Will Cozad and Miss Nellie Bacon.

More Big Things for Yucaipa

Here are a bunch of paragraphs which tell of more new and good things for Yucaipa Valley.

The Edison company has commenced to put a high power line through the valley to supply power to the new pumping plants and furnish light to the ranches.

The big sixty million gallon storage reservoir began leaking some time ago. Now a concrete lining is being put in at a cost of eight thousand dollars additional. This improvement will make it perfectly secure.

Twenty-four miles of water mains now being laid on the "South Bench," which makes a total of 65 miles of water mains. This is both for irrigating and domestic use.

Seventy acres to be set to tomatoes. Between the young trees, has been contracted for. This is one of the by-products.

Tree planting has commenced. 40,000 trees are on the ground ready for the spring setting. The abundant rains have put the valley in fine condition.

The Growers' Club is negotiating for a site for their building.

The big water developments are going along apace and all other improvements which we have noted from time to time are progressing.

We make two or three trips a week to Yucaipa. Of with us and see this fine development.

Here is the place for home-schooled, for fine investment. Come and learn about the price, the easy terms, low interest and many other things you ought to know.

AT THE COURTHOUSE JUVENILE COURT CASES KEEP GROWING

Hasty Marriages Followed by Rapid Divorces Is Chief
Cause of Trouble

"Juvenile court work is constantly increasing," said Rev. J. H. Scott, county probation officer, this morning in talking about his department of public welfare. "What is the cause? Chiefly that so many homes are being broken up. The number is always increasing. With the separation of parents the children are neglected with the inevitable result. There is too much of it all. Only this week I had a case where the father had abandoned his wife and child and the mother is unable to support the child. And so it goes. We do not begin to have as many cases of this kind as Los Angeles, but proportionate to population I guess we do."

"What is causing so many wrecked homes?"

"Hasty marriages," was the reply. "Too many people get married without the remotest realization of the responsibilities they are assuming. When they don't like their situation they seek divorce, and divorce is too easy to get."

Sent to Detention Home

Cora Kelley has been committed to the care of Superintendent L. H. Hill of the Detention Home, by order of Judge West. The hearing of the evidence in the case has been set for February 25, at 9:30 a. m.

Suit Dismissed

The suit of the Los Angeles Milling & Lumber Company against Elizabeth Miller et al. of Huntington Beach, has been dismissed by agreement of the attorneys.

One Year for Hernandez

Mmanuel Hernandez, arrested recently for the theft of a horse, pleaded guilty in the superior court yesterday afternoon and was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

Final report has been filed by L. H. Lucas in regard to the estate of Nina B. Croft, insane, and hearing has been set for February 28.

In the matter of the estate of Susan M. Jones, deceased, a meeting of all persons interested has been called for February 28 at 10 a. m. at the superior court.

STRAWBERRY CROP TO BE BIGGEST YET

Strawberries reach their most luscious state when raised in Orange county. This is true of the El Modena district as well as all others. The tempting berries attain perfection here.

Each year the strawberry crop grows larger and larger. An interesting illustration of this fact is presented by the six or eight Japanese who form the El Modena Berry Growers' association. Their output for the year 1912 totaled 12,530 basket crates.

For the last four years the Santa Ana Produce Company has sold the little brown men the baskets used. Yesterday the growers closed a contract with the produce company for 450,000 baskets to be used this year.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT TWO MEXICANS ARE FINED--ONE LET GO

Fines of $20 were imposed upon Domingo Dominguez and Nicholas Cordova, two of the three Mexicans who were arrested for creating a riot on Sycamore street a few nights ago, when they were tried before Justice Cox yesterday afternoon. The third member of the party, Jesus Gomez, was dismissed from custody because it was shown that he had acted in the role of peacemaker, and as usual in such cases, he got the worst of it until the court ordered his release from custody. Dominguez paid his fine and friends of the other man started out to take up a collection for him. The accused were arrested by Officer Ryan and Deputy Sheriff Law after an all-night search.

GROW APPLES, THE SECURE INVESTMENT Expectations Run High In Owens Valley

The enthusiasm of settlers who have bought land in Owens River Valley is based on the certain knowledge that they are fairly started on the road to fortune. It is an enthusiasm that is affecting others and inducing them to investigate this healthful, fertile valley.

There is no limit to the apple market. California apples have crossed continents and oceans, and have already won favor and reputation. It remains only for Owens Valley Apple growers to reap where others have sown.

Owens Valley has every requisite necessary to the raising of large, firm apples: the right elevation, 4000 feet; protection from hot, dry winds that occur in other sections, freedom from pests and blight; and, what many people believe to be equally as necessary to give the fruit a rich flavor, the right amount of cool weather in winter.

Land of this kind will not always be obtainable. But there are some of the finest lands in the valley still to be had at remarkably low prices and on easy terms. These comprise two tracts, owned by the Owens Valley Improvement Company, with selling agents, C. R. Thomas & Son, 229 Title Insurance Bldg., Los Angeles. The land is under an excellent irrigation system. It is near Independence, the county seat of Inyo county, and Manzanar, five miles southeast of Independence, ten hours' ride from Los Angeles, on the Southern Pacific main trunk line to the east. Write to Messrs. Thomas & Son for literature and information.

FAIR LILLIAN ILL
Tonsillitis Attacks Perennial Beauty
Confining Her to Her
Apartments

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 15.—It was learned today that Lillian Russell, who in private life is Mrs. Alexander P. Moore, wife of the publisher of the Leader, is seriously ill with tonsillitis in the Hotel Schenley here, and that she had, for several days, been confined to her apartments.

Still There
Robert had just received a whipping from his mother, who afterward angrily burst in upon his father as he was quietly reading the evening paper.

"I don't know where that child got his vile temper from," she exclaimed, throwing down a book; "not from me, I'm sure."

Her husband looked sadly and responded:

"No, my dear; you certainly haven't lost any of yours."—Harper's Bazaar.

No Wonder
"What is the most eloquent speech you ever heard, Pipkins?"
"One word—'Yes.'"
"Why did that seem so eloquent?"
"I asked a friend of mine if he would lend me fifty plunks and that's what he said."

ELKS WILL HAVE JOLLIEST OF OUTINGS

Venice Will Be Something of Fairyland Latter Part of Coming Week

Arrangements have been perfected by B. P. O. E. Lodge No. 906 of Santa Ana, for the gambol of considerable magnitude that is slated for February 20, 21 and 22. The event will be held in Venice and the city will literally be turned over to the "Best People on Earth" on this occasion.

The spacious dance pavilion has been donated by the Abbott Kinney Company and it will undoubtedly be the scene of much merriment. It is the intention of the promoters of the affair to make it not only one of magnitude but also one of merit and their efforts along these lines have been unprecedentedly successful so far. Many contributions of considerable value have been received by the lodge, and lucky ones will receive prizes which will range all the way from a pair of shoe strings to an automobile or a piece of real estate. One of the prizes will be a real live Australian kangaroo who was selected to represent the term of pleasure given the event, for there is nothing that can surpass the kangaroo when it comes to gambolling.

All of the amusements on the beach will be thrown open to the visitors and the Venetians intend to take a personal interest in the gambol and make it an event worthy of commemoration. Three large arches are being erected on the main thoroughfare and the entire Bay City will be profusely decorated for day and brilliantly illuminated at night. The dance pavilion will be lined on either side with handsome booths which will prove extremely interesting. Each of the bay cities, Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice, will have special booths, and each will be presided over by ladies from the towns they represent. Dancing and vaudeville entertainment will be furnished in the dance pavilion. There is no doubt but what it will be one of the grandest events ever held in Venice.

GERMAN AND MEXICANS IN FIGHT—PEACE

A hurryup call reached the sheriff's office this morning from the homeplace of a German named Machandes on East Santa Clara avenue, out toward the cemetery, where it was reported that real trouble was both brewing and stewing. Under Sheriff Law and City Marshal Jernigan broke speed records getting to the scene, where they found an irate German and a bunch of Mexicans talking with tobacco energy. The Mexicans had been employed about the place and they reached a difference of opinion with their employer about the job in general and soon there was as much excitement as if Madero and Diaz were addressing the reichstag. As peacemakers, Law and Jernigan made progress faster than The Hague tribunal ever did, and when they departed the German was almost ready to burrah for any Mexican ruler and the Mexicans were vying with each other trying to hook the kaiser.

LEASE RANCH AND WILL BORE FOR OIL

Pittsburg Millionaires Enter
Anaheim District to Begin Operations

Samuel Kraemer has leased 230 acres of the eastern part of his ranch to an oil company, which will in the near future begin boring for oil, says the Anaheim Gazette. Mr. Kraemer was last week in Los Angeles and met the syndicate of Pittsburgh millionaires who recently visited his ranch with a view to purchasing it.

Three years ago they considered an offer of $175,000 for 200 acres of his orchard tract. They failed to make a purchase and when they visited the ranch again some weeks ago found the price had risen to $1,000,000. They asked Mr. Kraemer if he still adhered to these figures, following last month's cold spell.

He replied the price was not only up to the figures quoted, but that he would refuse to sell for that amount, saying his ranch had altogether escaped evil effects of the cold weather. He stated he had leased a large portion of the upper part of his ranch, for oil boring purposes, and expected to develop a great oil field in his locality.

Needlessly Alarmed
It was scarcely half-past nine when the father of the girl who was entertaining a friend entered the parlor. The father had his watch in his hand.

"Young man," he said brusquely, "do you know what time it is?"

"Y-y-yes, sir," stammered the youth, as he scrambled out into the hall; "I—I was just going to leave!"

After the young man had made a rapid exit, the father turned to his daughter and said in astonishment, so Lippincott's avers:

"What was the matter with that fellow? My watch was run down, and I simply wanted to know the time."

COLLEGE ATHLETES AIDED BY STARS

World's Champion Hurdler to Meet Leaders of State
Next Month

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—There is no place in the world like the state of California for developing the finest track and field athletics. Here many world's champions are developed each year. The University of Southern California has in its team this year Fred W. Kelly, world's champion hurdler, and Ira Courtney, another member of the All-American team. These men are supported by a great many stars who rank with the best in the United States.

To give this team a chance to show what it is worth, the University of Southern California has prepared a schedule better than that of any other in the state, excepting the University of California and it compares favorably with the State University. The contests are as follows:

March 1.—Occidental College at Occidental.

March 15.—Stanford University in Los Angeles.

March 22.—University of California in Los Angeles.

March 29.—University of California at Berkeley.

April 3.—Stanford at Stanford.

The regular schedule closes with the meet at Stanford but a post-season trip has been planned. The Trojan team will meet the University of Nevada at Reno and travel to Columbia, Missouri, and meet the University of Missouri. The University has this year received the honor of being invited to the Missouri Valley Conference. An endeavor will be made to send the team to St. Louis to participate in the conference meet.

Satisfactorily Settled
A very satisfactory method of settling a love dispute occurred in Budapest (Hungary) the other day. Two girls, who had decided to fight a duel over a young man with whom they were both in love, settled the matter by becoming engaged to the two men who volunteered to act as their seconds.

AUSTRIAN WAR WITH RUSSIA IMPENDS

VIENNA, Feb. 15.—All Austria was thrown into a war fever today by an alarmist editorial in the Reichspost, the special organ of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir apparent to the throne. The article intimated that war between Austria and Russia over Albania is near. The writer throws a sidelight on recent autograph letters between the emperor and czar declaring that when the epistles failed to bridge the international differences the failure of the ambassadorial conferences at London was sealed.

WALNUT GROWERS IN SESSION THIS AFTERNOON

A second called meeting of the Walnut Growers' Association is being held this afternoon at Armory hall to discuss general conditions and review the work in the industry during the past year. The attendance was not up to expectations. President Nisson presided.
